Every one who may be interested in libraries is cordially invited to this meeting.

Division Seeks Former Members

The 83rd Infantry Division—the famed Thunderbolt Division of World War II, is conducting the greatest manhunt in history. They are seeking some 25,000 of their former members. At the close of the war, an 83rd Infantry Division Assn. was formed and an annual reunion has been held every year. This coming year the 21st annual conclave will be staged at Chicago, Illinois, in August. All former members of the old 83rd are urged to contact the national secretary, Larry Redmond, 132 Rockwood Drive, Havertown, Pa.

Nation Reports Cooler Weather

By United Press International

Cooler weather clamped down on much of the nation today.

A cold front extending from Michigan to north Texas was moving rapidly south and east, bringing back a seasonal chill after a short interlude of balmy breezes.

Frost and freeze warnings were hoisted from Montana and Colorado to Minnesota and Iowa. Frost was expected as far south as Kansas and the higher valleys of northern Arizona and New Mexico.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms dampened wide areas early today. The rain activity stretched from the mid and east Gulf Coast to the Great Lakes and the mid Atlantic states.

Robins Air Force Base, near Macon, Ga., was swamped by 4 1/2 inches of rain in six hours ending today.

Alderman Elliott Durham, the present sheriff of Nottingham handed over a proclamation to a member of the local archery club in Edwinstowe near here, reputed to have been one of Robin Hood's hideouts.

The proclamation said Robin was free of "all accusations of acts contrary to law and order of the past and absolution from any suggestion of villainy," and also that he is "welcome in the city at all times."

Mass Poisoning Of Race Horses

DE AAR, South Africa UPI — Detectives today investigated the mystery mass poisoning of a herd of horses slated to race in a cross country marathon.

By Sunday night 32 of the 90 horses stabled here for the race had died of what postmortems showed was nitrate poisoning. Race officials feared more would succumb.

"Koot" Pienaar, the marathon's organizer, said he thought the unprecedented crime had been caused by an animal lover who objected to the grueling marathon.

"I believe he thought it will lead to future marathons being banned," Pienaar said.

He said he is convinced the poison was sprinkled in the horses' fodder last Thursday night by a person who visited the stables in the De Aar Stadium.

Farm Bureau Insurance Sales Hit Record High

A hard hitting agency forced led Farm Bureau Insurance to record highs in all lines of business for the first six months of this year, according to Jack J. Rosenbrough, executive vice-president of the insurance companies.

Direct life insurance in force went above the half billion dollar mark, says Rosenbrough, as agents sold a total of $22.5 million during the 3-month period ending June 30.

Auto insurance applications totaled 22,850 for the first of 1966, with much of the credit for sales going to the new auto policy offered by Farm Bureau Insurance early this year, giving car owners, their families and the public much broader protection than ever before.

The company's attractive rate structure and its popular 80-20 collision coverage were also credited with the expanding auto business.

An additional 8,000 policies were written on fire and related lines. Over $8 million was paid in fire, auto and other claims.

Farm Bureau Insurance offers a complete service in life, auto, fire and hospitalization insurance. It employs approximately 800 Hoosiers, and has more than 350 representatives working out of 100 offices located throughout Indiana.

Farm Bureau Insurance is made up of the United Farm Bureau Family Life Insurance Company and United Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company. George Doup of Columbus, Indiana, is president. Home offices are at 130 East Washington Street, Indianapolis.

Buy British

LONDON UPI — The Daily Express today ran a full page of articles on "buy British" with Union Jacks dotted here and there. On the facing page was a half page of advertisements for various items including Russian radios, Swiss food mixers, and Japanese cameras.

The Greencastle Optimist Club held their first meeting this month at the Fairway Restaurant.

At that time, it was announced that Victor Inman had been appointed to the board of directors filling the vacancy of the Rev. C. H. Loveland who moved to Paris, Illinois. Mr. Inman will also be chairman of "Youth Appreciation Week" scheduled in November.

Jim Smith introduced Eugene Knoy as the speaker for the evening. Mr. Knoy is superintendent of Lieber State Park near Cloverdale. Mr. Knoy discussed the operation of the park and the problems encountered in maintaining all the facilities to adequately handle the campers and visitors. He also reminded those present that the park is responsible for increasing the income of families and merchants in Owen and Putnam counties.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. UPI — Hurricane Inez, after 16 days of indecision and 300 deaths in the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico, stabbed deep into Mexico today in the Tampico area, turned slightly southward and lost some of her murderous force.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. UPI — Hurricane Inez ground west into the almost uninhabited northern Mexico coast today. It threatened Brownsville and the lower Texas coast with its 135-mile-per-hour winds and 8-foot tides.

An estimated 5,000 to 6,000 persons fled their homes on the lower tip of the Texas coast, and down the Mexican coast from Matamoros south.

Inez, killer of more than 300 persons in a 16-day zig-zag course through the Caribbean departed from a curving north-west course aimed at the Brownsville area late Sunday and started moving almost due west.

The outer edge of the hurricane winds pierced the coastline late Sunday night. The Brownsville Weather Bureau said radar plotting showed hurricane force winds reaching into the town of La Pesca, 100 miles north of Tampico and 125 miles south of Brownsville.

The Brownsville Weather Bureau expected the hurricane to pass 50 to 60 miles south of Brownsville and the Mexican city of Matamoros across the Rio Grande.

Hurricane warnings were in effect in Brownsville and nearby Port Isabel.

Gale warnings were up on a 150-mile stretch of the Texas coast to Corpus Christi. The rest of the coast was under a hurricane watch.

A late New Orleans Weather Bureau advisory placed the center of Inez near latitude 23.1 and longitude 96.9, about 195 miles south-southeast of Brownsville and 85 miles northeast of Tampico.

It was moving west-northwest at 6 miles per hour.

Tides 5 to 8 feet high and near-hurricane force winds were expected in Brownsville today. Gale force winds and 6-foot tides were expected 150 miles up the Texas coast to Corpus Christi.

At Inez' center, the winds were estimated at 135 miles an hour. Hurricane force winds extended 70 miles from the center. Gale force winds extended 200 miles in the northeast quadrant and 125 miles from the center in other quadrants.

Torrential rains were forecast for Brownsville.

The leading edge of the furiously whirling doughnut-shaped mass of air, whipping out long tongues of wind, was about 30 miles from Brownsville early today.

An estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons were evacuated from Port Isabel on the southern tip of the Texas coast, and South Padre Island off Port Isabel.

The Mexican cities of Matamoros, Soto la Marina, La Pesca and Aldama were being evacuated, Mexican authorities said.

WASHINGTON UPI President Johnson is expected to press his plea for greater Soviet-American cooperation to solve longstanding European problems when he meets with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today.

The conference at the White House may bring the Chief Executive the first hint of official Russian reaction to his Friday speech in which he offered new economic concessions to European Communist nations and suggested the possibility of U. S. and Soviet troop withdrawals along both sides of the Iron Curtain if the Kremlin would work for "reconciliation."

The meeting, held against a background of rising world pressures for peace in turbulent Southeast Asia, also may give Johnson some idea of whether Russia is as adamant as she appears to be in trying to persuade North Viet Nam to the peace table.

Administration officials said they expected nothing in the way of specifics from today's meeting. They said, however, it would be important in assessing the mood of the Kremlin at a time when both Washington and Moscow give at least the surface appearance of wishing to prevent the Viet Nam conflict from pushing them into bitter new confrontations in Europe.

In a speech to the United Nations General Assembly last month, Gromyko said the situation in Europe was more important and contained the seeds of possible nuclear conflict.

This coincides with the views of most American officials. It gives rise to some hope in diplomatic circles that cautious concern over possible European crises will prevent either of the world's two major nuclear powers from clashing too directly over Viet Nam.

Gromyko, in a Saturday meeting at the UN with British Foreign Secretary George Brown, apparently rejected an effort to get the Kremlin to take the initiative in getting Hanoi to talk peace.

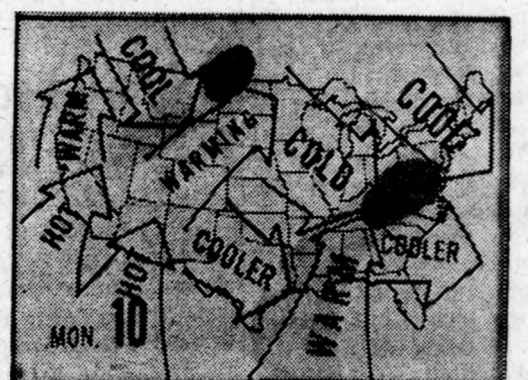

In turning down Britain's six-point plan for negotiations, Gromyko is understood to have restated the Soviet position that it will not move unless asked to by Hanoi.

17 More Killed In State Traffic

Indiana's week-long lull in traffic fatalities came to a shocking halt Sunday when 17 persons were killed and a week end toll of 19 was registered to raise the 1966 total road deaths to 1,188 compared with 1,105 a year ago.

The first seven days of October passed with only 63 fatalities, far below normal for the deadly month, and by Saturday midnight, with more than half the 64-hour weekend gone, only two were killed since the counting period began.

But Sunday more than made up for the slack. One grinding crash after another snuffed out lives at the rate of nearly one every hour.

The worst accident occurred Sunday night in Hammond when four members of a Gary family perished when their car hit a bridge abutment on the Tri-State Expressway.

Killed were David Boxley, 30, his wife, Shirley, 20, and their children, Wanda, 3, and Larry, 7 months. Another child, Terry, 2, was injured critically and hospitalized at Hammond. James Boxley, 32, brother of David and driver of the car, also was hurt critically and Wesley Boxley, 4, was in fair condition.

The first weekend accident happened Saturday night at the intersection of Indiana 29 and Indiana 218 in Carroll County near Delphi. Sam Keith, 18, and George Pemberton, 24, both of Kokomo, were killed in a car-truck collision.

Mrs. Delores Phillips, 21, Indianapolis, was killed Sunday night in a collision on U. S. 40 in eastern Marion County. Police said a car driven by her husband, Denzil, went out of control, veered into the wrong lane of traffic and collided with a truck and car.

Marvin Morrical, 32, Fort Wayne, became the 62nd motor-cycle fatality of the year Sunday when his cycle went out of control and crashed along U. S. 33, seven miles northwest of Fort Wayne. Authorities said Morrical was hurt against a utility pole as the cycle overturned in a ditch.

Salvatore Giosh, 56, Chicago, and his wife, Isabell, 65, were killed Sunday when their car collided with a truck on U. S. 31 at the north edge of South Bend. Police said Mrs. Giosh apparently lost control of the car as they left the Indiana Toll Road and skidded into the path of a truck driven by William Reader, 32, Fort Wayne.

V. L. Tuck, 36, Indianapolis, was killed Sunday when his car went out of control on U. S. 31 near Carmel and hit a guard rail and utility pole. He was thrown out and crushed.

A two-car crash on Indiana 65 north of Armstrong in Vanderburgh County Sunday killed Mrs. Esther Elpers, 54, R. R. 1, Haubstadt, and Richard Garrett, 23, Owensville. Police said Garrett lost control of his car and it collided with an auto driven by Anthony Elpers, 57. Elpers and his son, Richard, 14, were injured critically.

Charles Pressword, 47, Chicago, was killed Sunday morning when struck by a car on Interstate 80 near Gary. Police said Pressword was hitchhiking to his mother's funeral in Tennessee and was hit by a car driven by Stephen Krapac, 42, Hammond.

Arthur Roach, 68, Millersburg, was killed and Fred Kesterson, 18, Columbus, Ohio, was injured fatally in an accident at the intersection of U. S. 33 and Indiana 13 in Elkhart County. Kesterson died early today from injuries.

Two sisters were killed in a two-car collision on Indiana 43 in White County near Monticello. They were Lonia Nixon, 35, and Blanche Harvey, 27, both of Michigan City.

Ellen Smith, 62, Batesville, was killed in a two-car collision at the intersection of U. S. 52 and U. S. 231 in Tippecanoe County near Lafayette.

Cong Toll High In Viet Fighting

SAIGON UPI — U.S. Air Cavalrymen swooped down on battered units of the Communist 610 Division along the central coast today, captured 46 more Viet Cong and trapped others in a cave.

An official said the troopers were "trying to talk them out instead of having to shoot them."

The new fighting on the Hung Lac Peninsula boosted to more than 2,000 the number of Communists killed or captured in the three-pronged Allied assault-one of the most successful of the war about 290 miles northeast of Saigon.

It came as U.S. pilots reported shooting down two Communist MIGs and damaging a third in dogfights over North Viet Nam Sunday. One of the kills was by a World War II vintage prop driven Skyraider and the other was by a Navy supersonic jet.

The 46 captive taken today followed the lead of hundreds of other hard core Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who gave up rather than face almost certain death in the combined U.S., Korean and South Vietnamese pincers slowly closing along the central coast. First reports said they included a female nurse and troops with their weapons.

Military Backs Piao Over Mao

HONG KONG UPI—Military authorities in Peking today urged Communist China's soldiers, sailors and airmen to throw their full weight behind Defense Minister Lin Piao in the current struggle for succession to aging Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung.

The military, a Peking radio broadcast monitored here said, must take the lead in assuring that the entire country keeps in step with the Lin-Mao team during China's sweeping "cultural revolution" purges.

Travelers reaching here from China, meanwhile, reported that Lin was coming under bitter propaganda attack by military Red Guard youths.

A Woman's View

By Gay Pauley
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK UPI — It's no wonder the New York Jets pack in the pro football fans at Shea Stadium.

There's the great quarterback Joe Namath in the lineup. And lining up on the field before the game and on the sidelines during the play are 30 pretty precision dancing coeds to help please the crowds.

The 30 are students at St. John's University, in Queens, where the girls are known as the Coordinettes and will perform at university athletic events. For the undefeated American Football League club, they're billed as the Jet Set Rockettes and quite frankly call their high kicks and other formation dances similar to those of the famous you-know-whos of Radio City Music Hall. "We perform only to dance music, like Tijuana brass," said Patricia (Pat) Aveni, 21, a pretty brunette senior who is 1966-67 captain of the dancers. "We don't do marching band type of drill and we create our own steps and formations."

Marching bands with high stepping drum majors and majorettes are today as much a part of the amateur and professional football scene as chrysanthemums and hot dogs. But the Coordinettes, or Rockettes, believe they're one of the few college groups doing precision dancing.

The job with the Jets is one of the most interesting part-time jobs a college girl can have, agreed three of the Coordinettes to whom I talked. The other two were Marjorie (Gerry) Hart, 20, co-captain, and Barbara Accardi, 20, also seniors at St. John's. All are from the greater New York area.

There's the fun of appearing on television nationally, both with the Jets and in national basketball tournaments televised from Madison Square Garden in which St. John's is a perennial contestant.

Three coeds — Carol Butta, Betty La Rosa, and Carol Novis all of whom had dancing training—organized the Coordinettes at St. John's didn't recognize them as a formal part of

U.S., France Disagree On Peace Action in Vietnam

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson apparently has failed to convince France that there is any validity to the course the United States is following in Viet Nam.

The two countries cannot even agree on how to begin moving the conflict to the peace table because they differ so widely on just what the war is all about.

The President did learn, however, that the French do not believe the Communists are counting on a military victory over the United States. Nor does Paris think that Hanoi really believes its propaganda line that American public opinion will force Johnson to withdraw.

The French were understood to have assessed Hanoi's aim as a continuation of the struggle, tying down considerable numbers of U.S. troops, while counting on eventual revolutionary processes to destroy the base of the Saigon government.

This emerged clearly today following the two days of talks French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville had with the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other top U.S. officials. Couve de Murville flew back to Paris Tuesday night to report to President Charles de Gaulle and the French cabinet.

The talks with Couve de Murville dashed whatever slim hopes the administration might have harbored that France, which has close relations with North Viet Nam, might be persuaded to urge Hanoi to accept American peace proposals.

The French attitude is that the three-point U.S. peace plan offered at the United Nations by ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg is unrealistic because it is based on the false assumption that America is warring "Communist aggression" in Viet Nam.

The view from Paris, scarcely distinguishable from that of Hanoi, is that the United States intervened unnecessarily in a civil war. Thus the French contention is that any North Vietnamese troops who came South did so only after the Americans had interfered in a purely local war.

For that reason, the French believe the United States should stop bombing North Viet Nam without any "assurances" from Hanoi that it, too, will reduce its military operations. The French also argue that the U.S. offer to undertake a step-by-step withdrawal if the Communists also agree to a similar phased pullout under international supervision is too fuzzy to mean anything.

France wants to know whether the United States wants only North Vietnamese to withdraw, or if it is insisting that the Viet Cong rebels in the South many of whom have their homes there should also be forced to move North.

De Gaulle's position, as outlined to Johnson, is that Red China does not really want to conquer or control Viet Nam.

This also strikes at the heart of the U.S. position. Washington contends that Red China is supporting North Viet Nam in its efforts to conquer the south as one move in a broad campaign aimed at eventual domination of all Southeast Asia.

Freshman Class

The freshmen decided at their class meeting last Wednesday that they will have a class party at Turkey Run State Park on October 8. They plan to leave Reelsville at 8:30 and return by 6:00. The room mothers, Mrs. Cromwell and Mrs. Perkins, as well as the class sponsor, Mr. England, will accompany the group.

Fourth Grade

There are thirty-one pupils, seventeen boys and fourteen girls, enrolled in the fourth grade at Reelsville. The new members in the class are Mary Zimmer, Theresia Heeke, David Fox, and Jay Owens.

In social studies the children have enjoyed working on maps. They have been learning directions, direction lines, and boundary lines. They are also learning the continents and oceans and are now ready to travel to Alaska.

Kathlene Taylor, Daria Cox, and Charles Neese had birthdays in September and Garry Rigney's birthday is October 28. Theresia Heeke brought a garter snake to show the class and Mr. Taylor brought a copperhead for Kathlene to show. After the pupils watched the snakes with a magnifying glass, we gave them to Mr. England, the science teacher, to preserve. He sent the copperhead back for us to see.

The class has been studying insects and many excellent specimens have been brought in by the children. We have had a praying mantis, grasshoppers, crickets, katy-dids, beetles, hornworm larvae, and many others. Debbie Best brought the larva of the Promethia Moth.

The room mothers are planning a Halloween party for the children.

Senior News

The seniors have been very busy. On Friday, September 30, they spent the afternoon selling annual ads. It was a chilly, rainy day but many ads were sold in spite of the weather.

That evening the seniors sponsored a dance in the gym. It was appropriately called a "Back-to-School Dance." Refreshments of punch and cookies were served throughout the evening. Music was furnished by the Condors.

Linda Callahan and David Hamm were chosen winners of a "Twist Contest" and received an album entitled "Sweet Pea" by Tommy Row, Sheila Eyley, Joe Morlan, Pat Clark, and Bill Birdsell were chosen as outstanding dancers of the night and also received records.

Seventh Grade

In the next month John Mace is going to move to Greencastle; David Thomas is moving to Brazil, and Norman Estes is planning to go to Washington state. We will be sorry to lose them, but hope that they like their new locations.

Be sure to circle October 15 on your calendar. Why? Because, regardless of your age, you can spend an enjoyable evening at Reelsville High School.

The evening begins at 5 p.m. with a smorgasbord. Plans are being made for a variety of delicious foods. Later you can enjoy WIBC's Jim Shelton. Everyone will have a chance to win a Plan to spend an enjoyable evening at Reelsville High School on October 15.

Cheerleaders

On Friday, September 30, the student body chose the girls who will be cheerleaders for the 1966-67 basketball season. Cheryl Morlan, Brenda Landes, and Kathy Bristow are the "A" team cheerleaders. Barbara Hansel, Sharon Bain, and Peggy Montgomery will lead yells for the "B" team. Congratulations, girls.

Newlyweds Capture
Tournament Titles

By Alfred Sheinwold

The most popular victories in the recent national tournament at Denver were those of Martin and Bettie Cohn, of Detroit, in the Mixed Pairs, and of Edwin and Phyllis Kantar, of Los Angeles, in the Open Teams. The Cohns had been married just over a week and the Kantars for two months when they won their national championships.

Mrs. Kantar won a precious point in the team championship by making an overtrick on the hand shown today. The point of play is good for rubber bridge players because it sometimes makes the difference between fulfilling the contract and going down.

West got off to a bad start with the club lead, which rode around to Mrs. Kantar's ten. Declarer drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen, but then left the last trump in West's hand.

South switched to the ace and king of clubs, since that would produce an extra trick if East could not ruff. This was the case, and Mrs. Kantar led a spade to the king, ruffed dummy's last club, led a spade to the ace and ruffed dummy's last spade.

CONCEDES DIAMONDS

Declarer had already taken the first nine tricks, and dummy still had two high trumps. She conceded two diamonds and claimed the rest, making an overtrick and winning the match.

Declarer's line of play could not cost her the contract. Even if East had been able to ruff the third club, Mrs. Kantar could go ahead with the rest of her plan and would lose only that ruff and two diamonds. Mrs. Kantar would not make the overtrick if she drew three rounds of trumps. That would leave her with one trump and two losers in each hand (in addition to the sure losers in diamonds). Since declarer cannot ruff two losers with only one trump, she would be held to ten tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner deals and bids one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S-A K 7; H-Q J 10 4; D-6 4; C-J 8 5 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts. You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. You may also count 1 extra point for the strength in partner's suit. This is barely worth a forcing raise to three hearts. If you were a passed hand and partner opened in third or fourth position, you would jump to four hearts. (A jump raise by a passed hand is not forcing).

HOLLYWOOD

(By VERNON SCOTT)

HOLLYWOOD UP. — Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, former light heavyweight champion, is broke and has taken the nine count as an actor. But he got off the canvas recently for a minor comeback in television.

Slapsie will be seen soon in guest appearance on "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." and "Run For Your Life."

Partly deaf now, but still in high spirits, Rosenbloom is planning to have his life story made into a movie. He's also thinking about opening a night club in New York City.

"Acting ain't really for me," he said, rubbing his cauliflower ear. "My night club, Slapsie Marie's, did good business here from 1937 until 1949, but Las Vegas knocked me out. It knocked out all the night clubs in the west."

Las Vegas' record for kayos topped Maxie's as a fighter. In 292 professional fights he knocked out only eight opponents.

"I got into the acting game in 1937 when Carole Lombard asked me to teach her to box so she could clip Clark Gable when she felt like it," he grinned.

"In exchange she put me in her picture, 'Nothing Sacred.' I was so good in it that Jack Warner signed me to a contract. After four years at the studio Warner said everybody liked me but they couldn't understand what I was talking about. "So he sent me to Max Reinhardt's acting school to study diction and elocution sic. I met Marion Brando there in 1942. He talked exactly like me.

"Anyhow, I learned to talk good and went back to Warner's. You won't believe this but three weeks later Warner fired me because he said it wasn't the real me. Now that they could understand what I was saying they didn't like what I said."

In the past five years Maxie has played the joints with a nightclub act built around parodies of his career and songs he has written himself. Brando plays a large part in his routines.

Potential 'Moonlighter' Eclipsed By Her Family

By ROBERTA ROESCH

Dear Roberta Roesch:

Do you think anyone should feel ashamed to be a moonlighter?

I am looking for an opportunity to work at a second job, but my family is embarrassed by the whole idea and insists that the country's moonlight jobs should be saved for people who are unemployed. What do you think about this?

K. P.

Dear K. P.:

A person who is willing to work at a second job in order to make life better should be a source of pride to a family instead of an embarrassment.

It is true that in the past many people had a low opinion of those who held more than one job, and it is also true that the term "moonlighter" was originally applied to night riding brigands. But all of this has changed in the present. The Department of Labor has made it clear that the close to four million job-holders now moonlighting are not apt to be working at jobs that unemployed people want, or could succeed at.

So, if you feel that a second job is right for you—and a necessity in your life—go to it. Where Opportunities Are

If you are an average moonlighter, you probably will put in approximately 13 extra hours a week. And you will find good opportunities to do this in the sales and service industries, as well as temporary employment agencies.

Dear Roberta Roesch:

I have been considering going to work as a practical nurse since I need an income.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking . . .

IS it safe to have X-ray treatments for the removal of excess hair on the face?

About 40 years ago there was a period of great enthusiasm for this procedure. It took almost 20 years before skin cancers of the face began to appear in many of the people who had had these treatments.

Undoubtedly, these disastrous results were due to the limited knowledge of the hazards of overuse of X-rays.

Dr. Coleman Today, X-ray is used by dermatologists (skin doctors) for a wide variety of conditions. In their skilled hands there is virtually no danger of over-radiation.

A recent case was reported in which a woman was receiving X-ray treatment from two different doctors without letting either one know that she was being treated by another. It sounds almost impossible, but her zealous desire to be treated led her to this hazardous decision.

The potential dangers to the skin are great when these treatments are used commercially and without expert medical supervision.

What is a safe exercise for people over 60?

Almost all exercise done in moderation is beneficial. The biggest threat is overenthusiasm or a desire to compete with the memory of one's youth and thereby overdoing a sport. It is now recognized that well-controlled exercise can even be of benefit to people who have recovered from heart attacks.

Dr. Paul D. White, the eminent heart specialist, is most enthusiastic about bicycling as an exercise for the middle-aged, and even the elderly.

There are now many indoor bicycles, mounted on a stand with a single wheel, that can be used for mild exercise. At an open window, a few miles a day helps circulate the blood, is invigorating and is free of any of the hazards of riding a bike on the open road or on the city streets.

Why are nuts dangerous to children?

Infants and small children frequently breathe a small nut, especially the peanut, into the lungs. This happens far too often and can cause severe inflammation of the lungs.

Peanuts must be removed by bronchoscopy. This procedure and the danger of lung infections should establish a definite rule that children below the age of six are not sufficiently benefited by nuts to warrant this additional risk to their lives.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH — Springtime colds follow the premature shedding of warm clothes.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

"Whoa now Mr. Butler." That is what Evansville's Markwell (66) seems to be saying to DePauw's Butler as he hangs on to Butler's jersey. DePauw's fullback Whittlesey is throwing a block at one of the officials, while the Purple Aces' Lidy (14) is rooting the turf. Evansville won the game in the last quarter on two pass interceptions, 14-7.

Tigers Fall to Evansville In Final Quarter, 14-7

Evansville's defense, after seeing its offensive team bottled up by DePauw's defense, decided to take matters in its own hands Saturday. Trailing 7-0 with only 5:37 left in the clock in the final quarter, a 94 yard pass interception run set up one score and a 15 yard pass interception scored the clinching touchdown and led to the 14-7 DePauw defeat.

Before 3,300 Homecoming fans, DePauw University's football team put on a splendid exhibition on how football should be played—except for one vital aspect of the game—scoring touchdowns.

This game seemed to be a repeat of the first home game against St. Joe, when the Tigers could move the ball up and down the field at will, but when they needed a big play to keep the momentum going, their own mistakes proved to be their undoing.

Eight times against Evansville, the Tigers moved the ball into the Purple Aces' territory, and seven times the big play just wasn't there.

Drive one stalled on the Aces' 48 on a 4th and two situation. Drive two, with help from a roughing the passer penalty, which placed the ball on the Evansville 16, ended in a field goal try from the Aces' 22. The attempt was short.

Drive three had a first and 10 on the Aces' 35, but a clipping penalty stalled this drive.

The fourth drive started on the Aces' 33, when Evansville with a 4th and 2, tried to pull the Tigers off-side. It back-fired and the Tigers had the ball on the Evansville 33. This drive moved to the Aces' 20, but Lortz was smeared on the 20 on an attempted pass play. A field goal try from the 20 was wide.

Drive five ended in another field goal attempt from the Aces' 15. The kick was wide.

Drive six hit paydirt. Rock Klein pounced on an Evansville fumble on the Evansville 31. Seven plays later, John Butler caught a Dan Breckenridge pass from 2 yards out for the score. Feemster's kick was good and with 7:12 left in the 3rd quarter, DePauw led 7-0.

Drive seven was a disastrous drive. DePauw moved from their own 49 to the Aces' 9, and on a 3 and 8, Breckenridge rolled out to pass, John Lidy picked off the pass on the goal line and raced 94 yards to the Tiger six before he was caught from behind. Mills of Evansville went over from the 1, 3 plays later. The 2-point pass play was good and the Tigers trailed for the first time with only 4:58 left in the game.

Drive eight ended all chances for the Tigers. A fourth down pass was incomplete on the Aces' 38 with only 1:04 left in the game. Evansville then ran out the clock.

The Purple Aces scored their second touchdown with only 1:28 left in the game. A Lortz pass out in the flat was intercepted by Mills on the DePauw 15 and he raced untouched into the end zone. Brandenberger's kick was no good.

In the battle of the statistics, DePauw led all the way. First downs, the Tigers made 10 to 7 for the Purple Aces. Rushing yardage was DePauw 107 to 105 Aces. DePauw gained 98 yards passing to only 11 for the visitors.

Evansville — Mills, 1 run (Minette pass from Loge).

Evansville—Mills, 15 pass interception (kick failed).

Tigers Tie In 3-Way Meet

DePauw and Indiana Central tied for the blue ribbon in a three-way cross country meet here Saturday, but the Tiger soccer team took it on the nose again.

Finishing with identical scores of 32-32, DePauw and Central both beat Butler which wound up with 73 points. Gary Osborn of IC took first in the meet with a time of 21:16.

Placing for DePauw were Dan Spear (2) in 21:26, Kent Ober (4) in 21:55; Steve Norris (7) in 22:17; Dan Blaney (9) in 22:24; and Bruce Fox (10) in 22:30.

Indiana University spanked DePauw's soccer team, 5-0, on the Blackstock fields. The defeat was DePauw's third consecutive loss. It will meet another Big 10 foe Saturday at Purdue.

Orioles Win World Series With 4 Straight Victories

BALTIMORE—That said sack Baltimore pitching staff did it again yesterday when Dave McNally pitched the Orioles to a four-straight World Series sweep over the favored Los Angeles Dodgers with a four-hit 1-0 shutout and Frank Robinson's revenge homer.

McNally, a cool, 23-year-old left-hander, extended the Dodgers' string of scoreless inning to 33, erasing a mark that has stood since the days of Christy Mathewson and Iron Man Joe McGinnity in 1905. He left them for dead with an all-time low batting average of .142.

Robinson, out to prove the Cincinnati Reds made a boner when they tabbed him as too old last winter and traded him to Baltimore, ripped a Don Drysdale pitch 410 feet into the left field stands in the fourth inning to fittingly climax his triple-crowning season.

McNally was taken out of the opener during a wild streak when he loaded the bases with one out. Moe Drabowsky walked in the run, the last the Dodgers were to get in the Series.

Then Moe blanked Los Angeles the rest of the way. Jim Palmer, Wally Bunker and now McNally carried on the shutout string.

The old Series shutout record of 28 was set in the 1905 all-shutout World Series in which Mathewson won three games.

Hank Bauer's champs became the first American League team to sweep a Series since the 1950 New York Yankees won four straight from the Phillies. The old fighting Marine was a Yankee outfielder on that team and eight other flag winners.

The roaring crowd of 54,458, which helped push the player pool to a record $1,044,042.65, watched the Orioles win their first World Series on a beautiful afternoon.

It was the first major league championship for Baltimore since the days of Ned Hanlon's old Orioles of the National League in 1894, 1895 and 1896.

State's College Gridders See Plenty Of Action

Third-rated Notre Dame and Purdue blasted college football opponents Saturday by identical scores, while Taylor kept its record clean and Ball State saw its unbeaten string of 13 ended.

Only Notre Dame and Taylor are still unbeaten among Hoosier college teams. The Irish are 3-0 and Taylor is 4-0.

The fighting Irish trounced previously unbeaten Army 35-0 as reserves played most of the second half. Notre Dame scored all its points in the first half behind the passing of sophomore sensation Terry Hanratty and the running of speedster Nick Eddy.

Eddy scored two touchdowns, while Hanratty scored one and passed for another. During just 30 minutes, Hanratty hit 11 of 20 passes for 195 yards. His touchdown toss was to his favorite target, end Jim Seymour, who caught eight passes for 155 yards.

Purdue thumped Iowa 35-0 as the Bollermakers opened their Big 10 season, once again hoping for a crack at the Rose Bowl. All American Bob Griese was his usual self, clicking on 16 of 24 passes for 215 yards, including a 40-yard scoring toss to Jim Beirne.

Sophomore Perry Williams, who scored four touchdowns against Southern Methodist last week, got two more Saturday at Iowa's expense.

Griese threw his way to Purdue career records for pass completions, total offense and total passing yardage. He also booted seven extra points to set a new career mark in that category and to tie the school record for total points.

Indiana University scored in the final period to tie Minnesota 7-7. Fullback Mike Krivo-shia plunged one yard for the tying touchdown.

The Hoosiers still are unbeaten in Big 10 play, owning a 1-0-1 record.

Ball State, unbeaten but tied twice in its last 13 game, was defeated by Northern Illinois 38-24. Ball State led at the half 16-14.

THE PRICE of farm land in many U.S. areas has gone up 10 per cent just in the last year, a financial publication reveals. If this continues, soon the city boy will be migrating to the country to groom onto some real pay dirt.

Today, more than ever, it looks like land values can prove good grounds for investment.

Some observers think prospects of higher farm exports under the U.S. "food for freedom" program is boosting land prices. At least, it's food for thought.

And with meat prices continuing to zoom one doesn't know if a financier referring to the "stock market," means the Big Board in Wall Street or the price of sirloin on the hoof.

Meanwhile, we read that motorcycles were raced around the coops of 13,000 British hens to see how much noise they could take and still lay eggs. Probable result: shell shock.

As a rule the crow appears each spring before the robin in northern climes — nature item. However, the robin gets all the publicity.

Shakespeare, declares Milt, the sterling printer, must have been thinking of contract bridge, when he wrote that famous line: "Double, double, toil and trouble."

TV In Review

(By Rick Du Brow)

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Perhaps never in the nation's history has the public so intimately shared a personal experience as it did, through television, the aftermath of the assassination of President Kennedy.

For this reason, and because of his magnetism, there is an added factor to be reckoned with in the countless publications, records and video programs concerning the martyred Chief Executive a factor almost indefinable, yet most associated with complex human sadness, and therefore resistant to precise critical assessment.

This factor was hovering present again Wednesday night in the one-hour documentary offered by the "ABC Stage 67" series, "The Kennedy Wit," for which Jack Paar served as producer, reporter and host.

And I freely confess that I have no envy whatever for the viewer or critic who can ignore this factor and be coolly objective, for such a person must be a cold cookie indeed. So there we are at the start, looking at a program of a man's humor and grace, yet silently angered at the fates that allowed his life to be cut short.

It seems, in this context, somewhat terrestrial to set down on paper that Wednesday night's program was not as excellent as Mr. Paar's last television hour, "A Funny Thing Happened on the way to the White House," an hilarious pictorial portfolio of humorous political events. But it is not entirely fair for a broadcast such as "The Kennedy Wit" to get by almost exclusively on the protection of the subject alone.

There are a few persons in television I admire more than Mr. Paar, who is an unexcelled showman and without question our foremost monologist on politics, and it is easy to see his attraction to the Kennedy hour, especially since his past video shows included appearances by members of that family, and by Republicans such as Barry Goldwater too.

That is why I am rather surprised that Mr. Paar seemingly failed to realize that his undeniable traces of sentimentality would somehow have a slightly jarring effect if allowed to coexist with the films of the dry, self-effacing

The Lighter Side

By Dick West

WASHINGTON UPI — Some critics of U.S. defense policies claim America has enough nuclear bombs in its stockpile to kill every enemy two or three times. They call this potential "overkill."

By that I mean we have more bomb covers than we have

Enlists In Army

Melvin E. Paris, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Paris, 610 Apple Street, Greencastle enlisted recently in the United States Army for a period of three years according to SFC Russell A. Fields, the local Army Recruiter.

Melvin chose to enlist for the Communications Center Specialist Course, one of over three hundred Army Service School Courses from which a high school graduate may choose, under the Army's High School Graduate Specialist Program.

Melvin will receive his initial military processing at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri. After completion of basic training, he will be granted a leave and then report to the US Army Southeastern Signal School, Ft. Gordon, Georgia for 11 weeks training as a Communications Center Specialist.

Melvin attended Greencastle High School and graduated in 1966.

Extend Term

WASHINGTON UPI — The board of visitors of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis believes the term of the academy superintendents should be extended to at least four years.

In a report to President Johnson, made public during the weekend, the board said the present two-year term is so short the superintendent has no opportunity to handle long-range problems.

The board also noted "with pleasure" that there was a sharp decrease of 30 per cent over the past year in voluntary resignations from the academy by plebes.

bombs that need covering. Maybe about $650,000 worth.

The bomb cover surplus recently came to light in a report submitted to Congress by the General Accounting Office (GAO). Permit me to bring you into the picture:

If you were building nuclear bombs and wanted to conceal their size and shape, you would make covers for them. Wouldn't you?

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) naturally did the same thing.

And if you reached the point where concealment became unnecessary, you would stop making the covers. Wouldn't you?

That apparently is where you and the AEC differ.

In 1960, according to the GAO, "the external dimensions of many types of nuclear weapons were declassified." Which is to say they were declared non-secret.

Nevertheless, the AEC continued for the next four years to turn out "security covers" at the same ratio (one cover per bomb).

Between January, 1961, and March, 1965, it spent about $650,000 to provide security covers for four types of nuclear weapons.

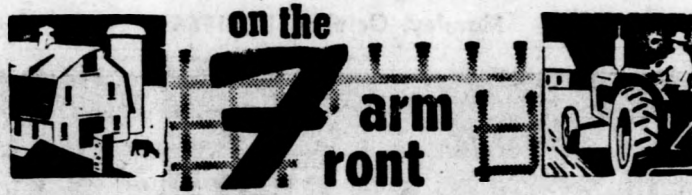

Although concealment still was needed in certain circumstances, the GAO concluded that a "substantial portion" of that outlay "could have been avoided."

It said the covers were creating a storage problem and that some of them would be sold as surplus property. This was the part that intrigued me.

I am wondering what use anyone would have for surplus bomb covers. The GAO didn't describe them but logic suggests they would have a weird appearance.

If you wanted to be really crafty, you might make it like a huge barrel with five cylindrical appendages. Then, if a spy came snooping around, you could pretend there was an elephant inside.

It may be, of course, that the AEC's covers were less cunningly contrived. Even so, they would be rather unusual objects to have around the house.

WASHINGTON UPI — Johnson administration farm officials are sidestepping a potential political trouble spot in dairy farming areas.

The Agriculture Department, faced with the fact that for the first time in more than a decade it has no surplus butter available for donation to school lunchrooms, has adopted a solution apparently designed to avoid irritating milk producers.

The job of deciding which spread-butter or margarine should be served in school lunchrooms has been shifted from federal authorities to local school officials.

Shortly before the 1966-67 school year opened this fall, a department official said, school administrators were told:

The department had no butter stocks available for its usual donations to schools.

The department would not buy margarine for use in the schools as it does for donation to welfare institutions and needy families.

Spreads for school lunchrooms should be purchased locally by local officials.

Rodney E. Leonard, an official of the department's Consumer and Marketing Service, said the agency would supply other foods to the lunch program with the funds normally budgeted for supplying federal butter to schools. Leonard said this move would "free up" local funds ordinarily spent on other foods for purchases of spreads.

Government stockpiles of surplus butter, piled up in the past as part of the department's dairy price support program, ran dry earlier this year.

Twice during the earlier months of 1966 the department announced proposals to buy butter from the open market in an effort to maintain school donations. Neither move produced results because bids, according to department officials, were above market prices.

The disappearance of the federal butter surplus was part of a general tightening of dairy supplies following a downturn in milk production.
